

Versaterm IAPro Users Training Conference

August 30-September 4
Phoenix, AZ

Event Overview

As Versaterm's flagship event for professional standards, the Versaterm IAPro Users Training Conference brings together more than 475 public safety professionals from agencies around the world. It's a direct opportunity for sponsors to connect with decision-makers actively focused on enhancing accountability, transparency and operational excellence in their agencies.

Over the past two decades, the conference has brought together a global community of professional standards professionals to share knowledge, strengthen practice and advance accountability in public safety. The 21st annual event will create a focused environment to showcase your solutions while building meaningful relationships with the people shaping the future of professional standards.
